

“I voted for George W. Bush because he promised to change Washington.

I’m not falling for the same old line from John McCain.”

Republican John McCain supports the same old policies. This time, we can't afford the same old results.

McCain's plans will put us all at risk.

McCain is promising the same change George W. Bush promised us, and he supported Bush in the Senate 90% of the time.¹ But working families don't need another George W. Bush. McCain's vote in line with Bush for NAFTA cost the U.S. more than a million jobs.² McCain's health care plan would tax health care benefits — a new tax on working families.³ And, McCain's support for privatizing Social Security, another Bush agenda item, puts our retirement at risk.⁴

"I could lose my job under John McCain.
Every unfair trade deal he votes for puts my job in jeopardy."

— Fran Benso
Communications Worker

"McCain won't do anything to help me with health care costs. I'm terrified of getting sick, even with insurance."

— Gary Flynn
Firefighter

"I literally depend on Social Security. I need a president who will protect my retirement — not gamble it away like Bush tried to do."

— Bill Schultz
Retired Teacher

No third term. No McCain.

Vote Tuesday, November 4th.
